This is the eighth annual collection of short works by students of Berkshire Middle School (from the 2007-2008 school year). The stories are new, and so is this group of authors. The focus, though, remains the same as in previous volumes: With genuine effort and attention to the writing process, young authors can fine-tune their original ideas and produce works suitable for a wide audience.

Over a twelve-week period, each sixth-grade writer shepherded a germ of an idea through multiple revisions to arrive at a polished piece. The ultimate paths of the stories and the improvement in quality from start to finish sometimes surprised even the authors. 639 Potential Paper Cuts continues the proud tradition of author's craft demonstrated in its predecessors Short Stories by Short People, Who Says Adults Have to Write All the Good Stories?, Got Stories?, Tall Tales Gone Short, Stories For Shorties, Five Drafts Later..., and Your Title Here.
